

Top Gun Chili

by

George

Chili FAQ:

- Yes, it has beans.
- No, I don't care that in Texas, they won't call this "Chili"
- Yes, it's from a kit, with modifications.
- No, it will not set your mouth on fire, it is meant to be eaten as food, not send you to the ER.
- Yes, it has meat in it, beef, pork and bacon.
- No, it has no gluten in it. Can I have my bonus points now, please?
- It is called Top Gun because I am a shooting instructor and do well with guns.
- It is also called Top Gun because I am a former military aviator.

Hat FAQ:

- Yes, it is an authentic military flight helmet.
- Yes, I wore it while flying (B-52H bombers).
- No, I've never been in combat with this helmet, it superseded the one I was in combat in.
- No, I did not steal it, the USAF gave it to me when I separated in 1984 – it's custom-made for me and wouldn't have fit anyone else.
- No, it is not suitable for motorcycle or ATV riding. It has no Snell Rating.
- Yes, it is the same helmet that fighter pilots wear.
- No, I am not a fighter pilot. My wrists are too small to wear those huge wrist watches.

Chef FAQ:

- Yes, I've cooked Chili before, even entered Chili contests before, and have judged a couple.
- Yes, I've cooked for a living many years ago.
- Yes, I can tie apron strings behind my back, in a bow.
- Yes, I know that good Chili depends on the Cumin more than the Pepper.

Thank You for your vote, there will be a party when I win!